NINA BROOKE

'We are all moving in between scenes as we go - changing our behaviours adapting to the surroundings that envelope us.'

I want to focus in on having these interactions with the natural landscape, in order to show those that view my work just how incredibly beautiful the world around us is.'

THE LAST WAVE

We are delighted to present Nina Brooke's latest exhibition, which marks a significant moment in her artistic journey.

Entitled 'The Last Wave,' this collection represents a poignant farewell to the captivating coastal landscapes that have inspired Nina's work for the past six years.

In this series of five statement pieces, Nina masterfully captures the essence of the ocean and the profound emotions it evokes within her. Each painting is a testament to her deep connection to the sea, reflecting not only its serene beauty but also its untamed power.

'The Last Wave' serves as a compelling reflection on the transient nature of inspiration and artistic exploration. While bidding adieu to her beloved coastal subject matter, Nina embarks on a new chapter in her artistic evolution.

For inquiries about acquiring these works, please reach out to Jo at jo@northcoastasylum.com.

All pieces are box framed in white, and domestic shipping via fine art courier is provided at no additional cost.

International shipping options are also available upon request.
